Sexual Health Evaluation

Sexual Health Evaluation: SHE visit for women

Many women experience sexual health issues during or after their cancer treatment. These issues may include vaginal dryness, vaginal pain with intercourse, decreased desire, decreased arousal, inability to climax or body image concerns.

The Center for Integrative Oncology and Survivorship (CIOS) at Prisma Health offers one-on-one sexual health evaluations (SHE visits) with a nurse practitioner to help all female cancer survivors better understand and overcome the sexual health challenges related to cancer treatment. SHE visits are available to all female cancer patients regardless of sexual orientation or whether single or in a relationship.

A SHE visit involves discussing and assessing concerns about sexual health as a result of cancer diagnosis or treatment. A nurse or nurse practitioner will address specific sexual health issues while also providing evidence-based recommendations to help promote happy, healthy sexual well-being.

For more information, call the CIOS Nurse Navigator at 864-455-6243.

To schedule a SHE visit, please call 864-455-1346. Our offices are located at the Prisma Health Cancer Institute, 900 W. Faris Road, 1st Floor, Greenville, SC 29605.

Note: An office visit charge or insurance copayment may apply.
